You are cordially invited to participate in a one-day Storage Technology workshop on market trends and future R&D. The workshop will be held on Tuesday, October 30, 2007 at the IBM Labs in Haifa, located on the Haifa University campus, Mount Carmel, Haifa, Israel. This workshop is a part of a two-day System and Storage conference (SYSTOR07) being held at the IBM Haifa labs.

The Storage Technology workshop enables storage professionals from both academia and industry to share their work, exchange ideas, and discuss future market trends. The program will cover the latest developments in storage and take a look at recent innovations.

Topics

Topics of interest include, but are not limited to, the following subjects:

- De-duplication - Solutions for redundant data concerns
- Green systems - Energy efficient storage solutions with no performance degradation
- ILM (Information Life-cycle Management) - From primary storage to archive tape
- Thin provisioning - Efficient utilization of storage space
- CDP and other trends in data protection
- New storage media techniques
- Storage preservation

The workshop will take place in the auditorium (Room L100) of the IBM Labs in Haifa. A detailed agenda and participation information will be distributed at a later date. Lunch and refreshments will be served on both days. Participation is free.
